Dear Hiring Team,

I am excited to apply for opportunities where product judgment, structured problem solving, and strong execution can turn complex business needs into useful, scalable outcomes. I bring approximately five years of experience spanning product management, strategy, technology delivery, and operational transformation, supported by an MBA and an M.S. in Computer Science with an AI specialization from Georgia Tech.

At Paytm, I led products serving 30 million merchants, 10 billion transactions, and approximately $440 million in annual revenue streams. My work included owning a pricing engine, launching new payment journeys, modernizing onboarding platforms, and building automation that reduced cost, fraud, and operational effort. I also managed product managers and a data analyst, translating ambiguous stakeholder needs into roadmaps, requirements, experiments, and measurable delivery plans.

I have also built and shipped applied AI solutions, including an LLM operations assistant that reduced average handling time from 12 minutes to 3.5 minutes and an agentic retention system designed to identify churn signals and generate targeted interventions. These projects strengthened my ability to connect emerging technology with practical customer, operating, and financial outcomes rather than treating innovation as an end in itself.

Across product and consulting-style engagements, I am most effective when a problem requires customer discovery, data analysis, executive communication, cross-functional alignment, and disciplined execution. I am comfortable moving between strategy and detail, whether that means framing a market opportunity, analyzing a process, working with engineering and design, or helping stakeholders make a clear decision.

I would welcome the opportunity to bring this combination of product leadership, analytical rigor, technical fluency, and hands-on ownership to your team. Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to discussing how my experience can support your customers, teams, and business goals.

Sincerely,

Prabhjot Singh Ahluwalia
